BRICKS! BRICKS!

And Brick Buildings.

The undersigned having consolidated their interests in the brick and building business, are now prepared to contract and erect structures of brick, or any building in the line of brick work, at low prices. We feel confident that we can and will erect brick buildings for a less price than any other locality upon the coast. It has been satisfactorily proven that brick withstood the terrible fire fiend in Chicago better that stone or any other material that was used in erecting the costly structures in the famed city of the great northwest, and as this is a very dry country the greater part of each year, (this a wet season) hence the necessity of building habitations and places of business out of indestructible material by the fire element, and guard against the extreme of the Summer sun. Brick houses can be made much cooler than wooden ones.

To the People of Woodland and Vicinity

We would say that we intend to manufacture a large amount of brick this season, which will enable us to sell and erect buildings for a less price than if we did not manufacture largely.

To the People of Dixon and Davisville

That we will furnish you brick upon the cars in Woodland at a low figure when any considerable quantity is taken.

For any of the people in the country, living at too great a distance to haul bricks from our yard here, we are prepared, if they desire it, to make the brick upon their farms and erect their buildings.

The Eruption of Mount Vesuvius.

DESTRUCTION OF VILLAGES—TERROR OF THE PEOPLE.

[From the News of the World Cor., May 5.]

The streets of Porticelli on Saturday night were crowded with peasants hurrying away or encamping in the fields, in fear of an earthquake which they thought inevitable. On approaching Vesuvius the scene was indescribably terrible and grand. The mountain seemed to be literally on fire. A stream of lava six metres in height was rapidly descending towards La Cereola and threatening Porticelli. All the houses were abandoned, though in reality they were not much injured. The detonations from Vesuvius were frightful. A large number of soldiers were present to keep spectators from advancing too near the scene of danger. It would be impossible to describe the many acts of heroism the men have performed in saving people. The King himself was on the spot, at San Sebastiano. So heavy was the fall of cinders that the sky seemed hidden by them, and they fell everywhere like rain. The plantations were covered with them, and people were walking with umbrellas to protect themselves from the downpour. The terror of the people was intense. Women were to be seen going around in procession and praying "St. Janarius" to have mercy on them. Many thieves, turning the prevailing confusion and dismay to account, found their way into the abandoned villages and were arrested there. Part of San Sebastiano is entirely destroyed, with everything near.

The rain of cinders on Sunday afternoon was like black snow, and penetrated the eyes and mouth, altogether producing a most unpleasant sensation not easy to describe. Vesuvius displayed a terrible electric phenomenon on Monday, marked by flashes of lightning and vibrations of the earth. At Naples and Circola there was a perfect rain of sand, and at Massa Somma a rain of scoriæ. The projectiles from the volcano rose to a height of more than a kilometre. The lava had ceased to flow.

The villages around Vesuvius presented a most mournful aspect. The inhabitants are returning to their homes. The number of dead is now estimated at 80.

The inhabitants of the towns and villages dotting the shore all around the skirts of the mountain, from Portici to Castellamare, and some of the more exposed localities, live upon Vesuvius, but only on sufferance. Pure air, a fertile soil, a smiling sea—a very Paradise upon earth is their inheritance; but there is this drawback, that their Eden lies at the gates of Hades. They are aware of their danger, and reconcile themselves to it. Neapolitans are not distinguished for their courage, even among their Italian brethren. Few people, indeed, cling to life with a more stubborn instinct; but it is only to life upon their own conditions; to such a life as their soil and climate, and their indolent, open-air habits, endear to them. They must either dwell there or nowhere; and they cling to what is to them the only suitable abode with a fondness which seems hardly rational, yet with a fatalism which borders on heroism. Torre del Greco may die and be buried; but long live Torre del Greco! Its present inhabitants have their basements on their forefathers roofs; their own roofs may become the foundations of their grandchildren's dwellings. It is a poor consolation for these sufferers to know that they have curious, if not sympathizing strangers, English and Americans, Germans and Russians, ready to witness and, in some instances to share their doom. It is from Naples itself, from her open squares, from her moles, from the various points which indent her coast, from her buildings, rising like so many steps around an amphitheatre, that Vesuvius can be viewed to the best advantage. The column of lurid fire rising from the mountain-top like the trunk, and spreading in the air like the cone of the umbrella pine of the country; the huge masses shooting up skywards, and bursting like rockets as they fall; the streams of sluggish lava streaking the sloping mountain sides; the dense cloud of seething vapor diffusing itself over the land and sea, till it encumbers the firmament; the flash and roar of the subterranean artillery—all that exhibition of terror and majesty to which words and colors so vainly attempt to do justice, are best seen from a safe distance. But with many men as with the moth, the instinct is to go and singe their wings in the flame. A fascination seems to seize upon the vast multitude, and just as the convulsion, which is often as fleeting as it is sudden, gives signs of abatement, they are off, scampering along the Portici road, and climbing up the steep, slippery, crumbling slope, to arrive at the crater just as all is again still and dark, when all the reward of their toil is the innocent amusement of roasting eggs in the fiery crevices, or bearing off the impression of a five-franc piece in the molten lava, to be treasured up at home as a remembrance of Vesuvius, and shown as evidence of "having been there." Unfortunately, things do not always pass off in this harmless way. There are instances in which Vesuvius is terribly in earnest, and it is precisely on these occasions that we hear of foolhardy travelers scoffing at the fears of the warning guide, whom long experience has made familiar with every throb and groan of the mountain, and rushing, wild with excitement, not where there is anything to be seen or learned, but simply where they may boast of having been further than any man had ventured before them. It is men of this temper whom the hotels in Chiaia are probably awaiting at this moment, as there are such men at every season reported missing at the hotels of Chamouni or Zermatt. There are persons, says the Italian Prime Minister, who could not be satisfied with contemplating the awful spectacle of an eruption from a respectful distance, whose energies did not find proper employment in rescuing from the threatened villages the invalids, the cripples, and all whom age or infirmity, or in some cases, even sheer terror, deprived of the means of locomotion; but who must needs press nearer and nearer to the scene of devastation, till the shower of burning stones overwhelmed them or the heaving ground yawned beneath their very feet.

That wonderful volcanic region of which Vesuvius and Etna are the main outlets finds vent for its energies at different localities during different periods. In the old times before the great eruption of 79 A.D. (the eruption in which the elder Pliny perished), the volcanic region close by Vesuvius, a region including Ischia, Procida, Pozzuoli, the Solfatara Lake, and Lake Avernus, had been from time to time the scene of stupendous outbursts. It is related that Prochyta (the modern Procida) was rent from Pithecusa (the modern Ischia) during a tremendous convulsion; while the eruptions from Pithecusa were so devastating that several Greek colonies which attempted to settle on the island were compelled to leave it. So soon as Vesuvius resumed its activity, the neighboring volcanic region became relatively quiescent. But after the eruption of 1306, three centuries and a quarter passed, during which only one slight eruption took place, and during this long interval, Etna was in a state of unusual activity, so as to lend countenance to the idea that the great Sicilian volcano may sometimes serve as a channel of discharge to elastic fluids and larva that would otherwise rise to the vents in Campania. Moreover, in the Phlegæan Fields a new mountain was suddenly thrown up, and another near the classic shores of the Bay of Baia. But the next eruption of Vesuvius, in 1631, reëstablished the mountain in the position of chief outlet to the volcanic region of South Italy. Vesuvius had then been so long at rest that many began to regard it as a truly extinct volcano. We are told by Bracini, who visited Vesuvius four years before the great eruption of 1631, that "The crater was five miles in circumference, and about a thousand paces deep, its sides were covered with brushwood and at the bottom there was a plain on which cattle grazed. In the woody parts wild boars frequently harbored. In one part of the plain, covered with ashes, were three small pools, one filled with hot and bitter water, another salter than the sea, and a third hot but tasteless." But in the winter of 1631 the mountain gathered together its subterranean forces, and, after a few premonitory upheavals, flung forth the covering of rocks and cinders on which the woods and pastures described by Bracini had been supported. Since 1666, when the next eruption took place, the mountain has seldom been at rest for more than ten years together. Of late, the eruptions have succeeded each other with exceptional rapidity. For it will be in the remembrance of most of our readers that in 1868 a great eruption took place, which lasted for an unusually long period. Indeed, it seemed as though the mountain could find no rest until Etna had been aroused; so that for a few days the unusual event of a combined eruption of these two great volcanoes continued to be in progress. It was predicted at that time that Vesuvius would not be in eruption again for many years; but now, less than four years after that double outbreak, Vesuvius is again at work pouring forth lava streams on all sides, and so intensely heated by the internal fires that the cone has the appearance of a mass of glowing metal. No evidence could more strikingly illustrate the treacherous nature of that part of the earth's crust which extends under South Italy, Sicily, and the parts of the Mediterranean occupied by the Lipari Islands and Stromboli. Nowhere else, save on the flanks of the Peruvian Andes, do the subterranean forces of the earth seem more threatening than in this beautiful region. Here Herculaneum, Pompeii and Stabiæ lie buried beneath lava and ashes; Resini and Portici, Torre del Greco, and Torre dell Annunciata have again and again been partially destroyed; and no one can surely say that Naples and Cozenzo and Catania and Messina are safe from such destruction as overtook Lisbon in the last century, and Callao in the present. Yet the regions which seem so dangerous are inhabited by a large population, and it is probable that there are few races among whom the love of their native country is more strongly marked than among the Neapolitans, Calabrians and Sicilians.

IMPORTANCE OF A PAPER.—The business men of Corinne recognizing the importance of a local newspaper, have in a body waited on Judge Toohy, of the Corinne Reporter, and offered him a bonus of $5,000 to continue the publication of his paper at that place, and not publish the Gentile Sun at Salt Lake City. The proposition was accepted and the Reporter appears again. It is the old gentile paper of Utah. The population of small places seldom appreciate the benefit done by a local paper, and do not often discover its importance to the community which it represents, even after it has suspended. The people of Corinne furnish a refreshing exception to this rule, and we are glad to see that their intelligence has led them to take prompt steps which they have in keeping their paper. Newspapers are a necessity of the age, and a town that does not rejoice in the possession of at least one, is seldom worthy of being placed on the maps. We could cite a score of towns on this coast that are well and favorably known through the marked enterprise of their local journals and as many more towns without newspaper representations that have equal natural advantages but are seldom heard of. The local press stimulates enterprise and sustains in many towns associations for improvement that it would be impossible to keep alive without its enlivening influence.—Exchange.

DR. LIVINGSTONE FOUND.—So much has been said and written concerning Livingstone, the African explorer, and so many contradictory reports concerning him have been circulated that readers have grown incredulous regarding the correctness of any reports touching his fate or whereabout. At last the mystery has been solved, and that by the enterprise of the greatest journal of America. In 1871, the New York Herald proprietor, from his private purse, fitted out an expedition with the view of finding the daring explorer if alive, or ascertaining the place and manner of his death. Telegrams to the Herald from Bombay announce that Livingstone has been found in the interior of Africa, and was at Zanzibar with the Herald expedition. Mr. Stanly, the head of the party, will furnish the readers of the Herald with an account of the expedition, and the world will wait with interest the appearance of the work expected from the pen of Dr. Livingstone. Always a marvel of journalistic enterprise, the Herald this time fairly eclipsed itself. What it may next attempt it would be difficult to imagine and folly to predict.

Congressional Plotting to Defeat Grant's Renomination.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald, a journal which warmly supports General Grant, writes to that journal as follows, under date of May 11:

The defection of leading Republicans in Congress from the proposed renomination of Grant, is no longer a secret to the President and his personal adherents. The usual difficulty of bringing about concerted action when secret treachery is meditated, has compelled the plotters to move cautiously and in quietude, and it is only under the implied pledge of confidence between friends that these would-be conspirators allow their true sentiment with reference to the political situation to find utterance. What they dread above all things is a premature exposure of their designs, lest untimely discovery should work defeat and the coveted mine and spoils of the party patriot be lost in the ignominy of the traitor. What they hope for is that they may find safety in some apparently spontaneous abandonment of Grant as the Philadelphia candidate, or shelter under the bold utterances of some recognized giant of the party. The names of a few of them are known, and the information that has come out is chiefly due to the measures being taken in time to cover and protect the many political interests depending upon the success or failure of Grant. In these preparations for safety the schemers have been compelled, in a degree, to be honest, and all their caution has not sufficed to keep their secrets from the man they are plotting to defraud of the nomination. The argument they confidentially adduce in support of their unmistakable, although disguised, treachery, is that the party owes nothing to Grant but its salvation in 1868; that for such service as his name and fame then rendered he has been amply rewarded by four years of power, which he has used more as a personal emolument than for the good of the party, and that if—as now seems probable—he shall turn out to be a Jonah in the Republican ship, there are now considerations which can justly claim to restrain the crew from tossing him overboard to keep the vessel afloat. The unexpected turn that affairs have taken since the Cincinnati Convention, and the time-serving policy of men on whom he has showered political favor, have greatly affected the President, it is said, and inspired him with such unconcealed distrust of everybody that the friends who have clung to him, by their own showing, through the coldness and neglect of the three years of his Presidency, are justifying themselves in advance for their own contemplated desertion to the camp of the flying politicians. Through the whole circle of politics there is a feeling of uneasiness and doubt, and the situation is becoming so oppressive upon all that any chance for better or worse will be a welcome relief to everybody.

DUTY OF DEMOCRATS.—The Hillsdale Democrat, speaking of the probable action of the Democratic National Convention in reference to the adoption of the Cincinnati ticket, says: "Should that Convention decide that Democrats must select between Grant and Greeley—both Republicans and protectionists—it will not be difficult to say that between Grant, the violator of the Constitution, the hard drinker, the sporting man, the receiver of presents, the feeder of relations at the public crib, the protector of the Leets, Murphys, Longstreets and Caseys, the candidate of Morton, Chandler, Harlan, Conkling, and carpet-baggers; and Greeley the honest man, the believer in the President's leading a respectable life, the refuser of presents while in office, the bestower of office upon the people and not upon relations, the foe to corruption and carpet-baggers, a believer in the reserved rights of the States, the friend of amnesty, the candidate of Trumbull, Palmer, Schurz, Fenton and Tipton—the Democrats will support Greeley. If the Democrats make no nomination, and the choice is between Greeley and Grant, the majority of the Democrats will support Greeley.

VALUBLE REPORT OF VACCINATION. The report of Dr. Wm. Welch, based upon 1,227 cases of smallpox and varioloid treated by him in the "Municipal Hospital," Philadelphia, in the year 1871, shows some important results. First, it appears that in the cases of those who had never been vaccinated, no less than sixty-five per cent. died. Next it appears that of those who were properly vaccinated in infancy, and whose arms showed "good marks," only about nine out of every hundred died. Where the marks of vaccination were "fair," but not "good," about sixteen cases out of every hundred resulted in death. Where the marks were "poor," showing the vaccination in infancy to have been very imperfect, about twenty-two died out of every hundred. These are very important results, fully demonstrating the protection afforded by vaccination, and proving that the protection is greatest where the vaccination is done most effectively.

SLEEPING TOGETHER.—The Laws of Life says: "More quarrels arise between brothers, between sisters, between hired girls, between schoolgirls, between clerks in stores, between hired men, between husbands and wives, owing to electrical changes through which their nervous systems go, by lodging together night after night under the same bed-clothes, than by any other disturbing cause. There is nothing that will derange the nervous system of a person who is eliminating in nervous force like lying all night in bed with another person who is almost ensorbed in nervous force. The absorber will go to sleep and rest, while the eliminator will be tossing and tumbling, restless and nervous, and wake up in the morning fretful, peevish and discouraged. No two persons, no matter who they are, should habitually sleep together. One will thrive and one will lose. This is the law, and in married life it is defied almost universally."

THE Crown Prince of Prussia, according to the sensible custom of his country, has selected the bookbinding trade as the handicraft which his second son shall learn, and he has taken his first lesson in it.

SIXTEEN CARS and four engines were smashed up near Wadsworth, on the Central Pacific, on Wednesday, but no one was seriously hurt.

The Dictatorship Extended.

[From the S. F. Examiner, May 25.]

The subtilization of Radical cruelty and refinement of oppression inflicted on the Southern people—the Ku-Klux Act—has been extended by the subservient Congress in obedience to the will of the tyrannous Executive, who expects, in the last resort, to use it as the means of prolonging his power, not for one term more, but for an indefinite period.

There can now be no doubt in the breast of any intelligent observer of events, that Grant intends to employ the military resources at his command, if necessary, to effect his reëlection. There never was any justification or excuse founded in truth at any time for the violent Ku-Klux legislation of Congress for the past two years; but if there ever was any original need for it, there is none any longer.

For months there has been scarcely a sign of disorder of this kind at the South. The white people and the negroes have contrived to lead lives of mutual peace and concord, in spite of the attempts of the malignant instruments of tyranny to stir up strife, breed hatred and provoke bloodshed, as a pretext for further unconstitutional legislation and consequent measures of repression and control over the inhabitants of the unfortunate eleven States that are pulverized and pauperized already to the verge of despair and madness. Those poor people have at last seen a gleam of hope in the awakening of just and merciful feelings in the Northern people, as evidenced in the revolt of the anti-Grant Radicals and the desire to unite with the Democracy in a movement for their liberation and enfranchisement, and are consequently preparing to contribute the little strength that is left there to the attainment of success.

The expiration of the Ku-Klux law with the end of this Congress, according to the original intention, or rather the original profession of intention, would have allowed the Southern people an opportunity of giving free vent to their thoughts and liberty of action without the fear of the bayonets of the Federal army directed against them by the saturnine ruler at Washington.

The present Ku-Klux Act was passed only after the most earnest and conscientious opposition of the minority in Congress, on the distinct and positive agreement that it should not extend over the next Presidential election; and on the adoption, as was supposed, of a limitation that made this amply secure—the provision that it should cease to operate with the termination of the present session of Congress.

In the campaign, immediately subsequent to its passage, it was defended in the public speeches and addresses and newspapers of the Radicals against the fierce attacks to which it was subjected by the equally conspicuous assurance that by no possibility could it be made to effect a contest for the Presidency.

Notwithstanding all these sacred protestations and pledges and the clause of self-limitation, it is only accepted and endured by the American people with the greatest reluctance, under protest, as it were, and because the popular majority was deluded into the belief that it was of instant necessity for the present protection of the "loyal" portion of the South, exposed to midnight scourgings and assassination, according to the perjured testimony of hired witnesses.

There have been frequent occasions in the non-rebellious States, when the law of the land has been a hundred fold more outrageously defied and set at naught, and no one ever thought of invoking Federal power, much less permitting its exercise, to sustain State laws or to punish their violators. In Kansas, in Nevada, in Pennsylvania, and most recently in Cass county, Missouri, a flagrant instance, as well as in our own State years ago, organized mobs, both in daylight and at midnight, have for a time nullified the laws and prevented their enforcement, and yet in no case was it deemed necessary to call in the forces of the United States to restore order or punish the self-constituted judges and executioners. Yet now it is proposed again to extend the dictatorial faculties of the executive over a vast and peaceful section of the country, on the flimsiest of pretexts and the most slanderous of calumnies invented against an entire people, that their will may be defeated at the next election. The reënactment of the Ku-Klux law is an exercise of the grossest tyranny and an exhibition of the most degrading despotism, and is sure to result either in the enslavement of the whole country, or the bloodiest redress of an outraged nation, if it cannot be successfully resisted by the peaceful means of the ballot box. All men in the country know full well that there is no excuse for the extension of this law. Its propriety at the beginning was earnestly disputed by many of the best people in the ranks of the party responsible for it, as well as by the entire people outside of that party; some of those who tolerated it, did so only from a false sense of its necessity. There is no such sense now, anywhere. There are no disorders, real or imaginary, to call for it. There is a returning spirit of peace and good order, which this bill, more than all else combined, can destroy. It is a most alarming and dangerous power to commit to any President, let alone to such a man as General Grant, who is only too ready to avail himself of its illegal authority, when his own interests are at stake. It has been passed a second time, by trickery, fraud and misrepresentation, and instigated by malignant hatred towards the people against whom its monstrous provisions are aimed. Because it is needless, because it is baneful to the region it professes to protect, because it is dangerous to the country at large, and inimical to republican freedom, not less than because it was always an unwarranted stretch of power, we enter our protest, useless as it may appear to be, against its renewal. It is time there should be peace all over the land—South as well as North.

GENERAL HOOKER is for Greeley, and says he is going to be the next President. He says: "His nomination is no joke at the East. But you are so far away here that the news reaches you slowly. I have talked with a number of good men since I reached San Francisco, and have been surprised to see how little idea they have of the enthusiasm for Greeley at the East. What I knew when I left New York has'nt got here yet.

FORSAKING HIM.—One by one, says the Petaluma Crescent, the powerful Radical organs of the United States are turning against Grant. There is such corruption that they can no longer stand by and see the people wronged and the nation disgraced by the imbecility of the Chief Magistrate. The Atlantic Monthly, the most powerful and able Republican monthly published on this continent, and which has never before swerved from its allegiance to the principles of that party, nor faltered in its devotion to the leaders thereof, has taken a new departure and forsaken Grant. In the May number, it says: "Those who distrust the Administration have an underlying ground of complaint, which it would require a great deal to remove. It has often been repeated, but repetition does not weaken its force. It is, that when General Grant was elected, four years ago, it was the popular belief and understanding that he would bend all his energies to the work of purifying the government, of redeeming it from the corruption into which it had fallen, of assisting those whose object it is to make political life in America once more respectable and honorable. Instead of doing this he has allied himself with the very men whose names are by-words throughout the country for these vices which he professed his desire to root out; he has lent his warm assistance to petty factions, warring not for any political object, but for the control of plunder, and he now demands his reëlection on the strength of these services to the country."

ABOUT PLATFORM.—When Thomas Jefferson delivered his first inaugural address, he laid down what he conceived to be the principles of government. They are as follows:

"Equal and exact justice to all men, of whatever state or persuasion, religious or political.

The support of the State Governments in all their rights, as the surest bulwarks against anti-republican tendencies.

The preservation of the General Government in its constitutional vigor, as the sheet anchor of our peace at home and safety abroad.

A jealous care of the right of election by the people.

Absolute acquiescence in the decisions of the majority, the vital principle of republics, from which there is no appeal but to force, the vital principle and immediate parent of despotism.

The supremacy of the civil over the military authority.

Economy in public expense, that labor may be lightly burdened.

Encouragement of agriculture and of commerce as its handmaid.

The honest payment of our debts, and sacred preservation of the public faith. The diffusion of information and arraignment of all abuses at the bar of public reason.

Freedom of religion, freedom of speech, freedom of the press, and freedom of person, under the protection of the habeas corpus, and trials by jury impartially selected."

NICE STATE OF AFFAIRS IN MISSISSIPPI.—Mr. A. C. Bullock, formerly of Fresno county, writes to a friend from Woodland, Mississippi, under date of March 29th. The letter is published in full in the Expositor. The following extract tells the story:

"This is a good country to live in if we, I mean the white people, could make the laws, but we have as little to do in it as the Chinese of California. There are sixty-seven hundred voters in the county, and fifty-two hundred of them are negroes. They hold all the offices. There are thirty-six officers in the county, and thirty-two of them are negroes, and twenty or more of them cannot read or write so that you can read it. It is amusing to have one of them come and serve a summons on you, with his bundle of papers. He will pull them all out and give them to you for you to look over them, and tell you what they are. One Justice in this beat has a deputy to do his writing, but the poor constable has to tell you what he wants if you cannot read. That's Republican."

THE ANGLO-CALIFORNIA RECLAMATION COMPANY.—This corporation, having its headquarters in the city of London, has for some time past been making extensive examination into the swamp and overflowed lands of the State, and is about consummating an extensive purchase, embracing about 300,000 acres of the same, situate in Solano, Alameda, Sonoma, Sutter, Yolo, Colusa and other counties, and belonging to G. D. Roberts, A. H. Rose, L. A. Garnett, W. Blanding, W. T. Chapman, E. L. Beard, G. A. Nourse and other prominent land operators and capitalists. The consideration for this purchase will be over three millions of dollars.

It is stated that the intention of this Company is, after reclaiming these and other lands yet to be purchased, to colonize them with European emigrants accustomed to farm life and labor, and that they do not intend to confine their purchases to swamp lands, but will invest largely in other tracts for like purposes.

SWEPT OVER NIAGARA.—The Buffalo Courier says: Wednesday last added another terrible chapter to the volume of catastrophes at Niagara Falls, and the victims were a man, wife and child, residents of Chippewa, who were swept over the cataract and into eternity. It seems that about 11 o'clock in the forenoon of the day mentioned, the party started in a small-boat from Chippewa to La Salle for the purpose of attending a funeral; and with the immense bodies of ice in view the undertaking must have seemed a most perilous one. When fairly out in the current the frail bark was caught by a heavy floe, and before she could be extricated she was carried over the Falls.

A CHANCE TO SELL OUT FOR A MILLION.—Among the various rumors of movements by the administration men for combinations to harmonize at Philadelphia for some one in place of Grant is one in which 1,000 men of the Republican party offer to give $1,000 each to Gen. Grant if he will withdraw from the contest. A New England man, well known, and one of the aforesaid band of 1,000, made the offer to Gen. Grant. Such is the story as your correspondent gets it from a respectable Republican.—Wash. Cor. Boston Post.

COUNTY AND TOWN OFFICIAL PAPER.
WOODLAND, CAL:
Saturday, June 1st, 1872.

Democratic State Convention.

At a meeting of the Democratic State Central Committee, held in San Francisco May 23d, 1872, the following resolutions were adopted:

A Convention of the Democracy of California is hereby called to meet at the city of San Francisco, on WEDNESDAY, JUNE 19, 1872, at 12 o'clock M., for the following purposes:

First—To select Twelve (12) Delegates to represent California in the Democratic National Convention, to meet in the City of Baltimore on the 9th day of July, 1872.

Second—To select Six (6) Electors and Six (6) Alternate Electors for President and Vice-President of the United States.

Third—To select a Democratic State Central Committee.

Fourth—It is ordered that the Delegates to the State Convention be appointed as the various County Committees may determine, but in case of election of Delegates by the people, such election shall be held under the provisions of an Act governing Primary Elections.

It is ordered that at all Primary Elections, voters who are in favor of abiding by the decision of the Democratic National Convention be entitled to vote.

It is recommended that the delegates to the State Convention organize themselves into District Conventions, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Congress in each of the respective Districts.

The Counties of the State are entitled to the number of Delegates, as follows:

President D. S. C. C.
JOSEPH ROBERTS, JR., Secretary.
JOSEPH R. BEARD, Assistant Secretary.

NEW YORK DEMOCRACY.—The Democracy of New York City has endorsed Greeley and Brown.

COUNTY INDEBTEDNESS.—The Petaluma Crescent states that the total indebtedness of Sonoma county is $329,872 84.

E. J. LEWIS.—This gentleman, who is now in Washington, writes that if the Liberal Republicans and Democrats unite, they will beat Grant out of his boots.

GRAND GROVE OF DRUIDS.—The annual session of this Grand Body commences in Druids' Hall, on Sutter street, San Francisco, on Tuesday, June 4th, at 10 o'clock A. M.

A REMARKABLE FACT.—The Examiner says: "It is mentioned as a remarkable fact that not a single Irish paper, and only seven German papers in the Union support Grant."

SEYMOUR.—The World gives currency to a statement that if Greeley is elected he will call Horatio Seymour to the chair of Secretary of State—and he might select many a worse man.

CONSOLIDATED.—The Chico Enterprise and Review newspapers have been consolidated and will hereafter be published in one paper enlarged to nine columns, by Ed. Hoole, Esq., and will be edited by W. N. De Haven.

FOR CONGRESS.—We hear the names of Jno. Boggs, of Colusa, Senator Irwin, of Siskiyou, N. E. Whitesides, of Yuba, George Pearce, of Sonoma, and others, mentioned in connection with the Congressional nomination in this district.

END OF VOLUME.—The San Joaquin Daily Republican, published at Stockton, has just completed its fifth volume, new series. It is a good paper, and we hope is remunerating its proprietors. We always gladly welcome the Republican to our table.

CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS.—Judge Harrison Gwinn, of Knight's Landing, will be a candidate before the Convention of this District for the Congressional nomination. He is sound in every particular and would satisfactorily represent the people of the District.

ARISTOCRATIC CHURCH.—The pews in Dr. Stone's new church, in San Francisco, were let by auction on Monday last, realizing the large sum of $50,000. This may be very proper, but it looks to us like excluding all but the wealthy from desirable seats, while the poor must resort to the gallery or the outer porch.

GRAIN MARKET.—The Liverpool wheat market has again stiffened, and in consequence prices in San Francisco have advanced, the range for all grades being from $1 90 to $2 15 per cental. Barley is dull at $1 40@1 50. Oats quiet, but market firm at $1 65@1 80. The extremes for hay are $16@23 per ton.

$25,000 FOR A DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION.—Montgomery Blair is decidedly in favor of the Democracy's adopting the Cincinnati platform and candidates, and "speaks right out in meeting" to that effect. He says that the administration are doing all they can to induce a nomination at Baltimore, and that Zach Chandler stated that he would himself give $25,000 to start a straight Democratic ticket.

AN OPINION.—Speaking of the political prospect in Indiana and Illinois, the St. Louis Times says: "Trumbull and Koerner will be the Liberal Democratic gubernatorial candidates in Illinois this fall. Such a ticket will give the State to Greeley and Brown by fifty thousand majority. Hendryx will perform the same service in Indiana and do his gubernatorial opponent, Browne, by at least thirty thousand more. This is getting to be emphatically the era of good feeling."

The Land Monopoly Evil.

It is a well known fact that in countries where the lands are all owned by comparatively few persons an aristocracy exists, and the masses, who are landless, are ground down by that aristocracy to a condition little better than slavery. California is preparing the way for just this state of things, and unless something is done to stop the gathering in of the public domain by a few individuals, there will be a worse landed aristocracy here in a short time than exists in England today. According to the Bulletin a single firm in this State owns a million acres, and "there is just room enough for one hundred more landholders on the same scale. But in the place of this one hundred we want three million people attached to the soil." There are other companies and individuals who have vastly more than they ought to for the prosperity of the State and its people. Small farms are conducive to the prosperity of all classes, and the man or party who shall be the means of putting a stop to the system of allowing the lands to pass into the hands of a few individuals will be a benefactor to the people.

We are no admirer of Senator Cole or his ideas, in general, but the following bill introduced by him in Congress it seems to us would, if passed, surely have a good effect. It really limits the amount of land to which any man should hold title in future, varying according to the land—arable, timber and grazing, and mining lands. It is extremely doubtful if such a bill can be got through Congress. The legislation of the present day tends to make the rich richer and the poor poorer. But we insist that this bill is right in principle—the domain must not be controlled by a few capitalists if we would maintain true democratic, republican government—a government for the protection of the rights of the many as well as of the few. Here is the body of the bill referred to, in sections:

Section 1. That every citizen now residing upon the public lands of the United States, or who may hereafter settle upon such land, shall be held and deemed to be, in law, the owner of the same; provided, however, that his or her possessions do not exceed in extent one hundred and sixty acres of agricultural land fitted for cultivation; or six hundred and forty acres of land, if the same be useful for pasturage, or timber only; or forty acres, if the same be known as placer mining lands.

Sec. 2. That every person occupying the public lands of the United States, as provided in the preceding section, shall, after two years of actual, continuous occupation, if the same be agricultural or pasture lands, be entitled to a patent for the same from the United States, free from all cost and charge whatsoever; and if timber land, or placer mining land, or other mineral land, at the rate or price now prescribed by law.

Sec. 3. That none of the public, agricultural, pasture, timber or placer mining lands of the United States shall be disposed of otherwise than in this Act provided.

Sec. 4. That all agricultural, pasture, timber, mineral and other public lands of the United States, except reservations for Government purposes, whether surveyed by the United States authorities, or unsurveyed, or whether offered by the Government or not, if the same remain uncovered by patent, shall be free and open to occupation and settlement, and shall be subject to the provisions of this Act, any former Act of Congress relating to the same to the contrary notwithstanding.

Pertinent Inquiry.

Our Radical cotemporaries see the "hand-writing on the wall" and begin to wonder what it means. The Sacramento Bee, alarmed at the action of the Republican State Convention, where Grant was thrown overboard, asks—"What's up in Arkansas? The Republican State Convention of Arkansas met at Little Rock on the 22d. It was composed of whites and blacks in equal numbers. It declared for the Cincinnati nominees, and will send no delegates to Philadelphia! It, by resolution, condemned the opposing faction and the course of the Federal Government in relation thereto, indorsed the Cincinnati platform, and determined to put a Greeley and Brown electorial ticket in the field," etc. Later news has doubtless had the effect to calm the feelings and quiet the alarm of "the busy little Bee," for we have accounts that an offshoot or wing of the party has since selected delegates to Philadelphia. Arkansas has been a fruitful field for Grant's carpet-bag tools, and it would not do to let her go unrepresented in the "loyal" National Convention, even if delegates had to be selected in Washington! A majority of those in official positions throughout all the extreme Southern States—National as well as State Officers—have been either Radical adventurers who went there for the purpose or else were selected and sent there by the Administration on account of their fealty to Grant and Radical interests, and known to be opposed to the interests of the people whom they misrepresented. Then, if this be so, it would be a comparatively easy matter to select delegates in Washington for Arkansas, to cast the vote of that down-trodden, plundered, tax-ridden, actually sold out State, for Grant in the Philadelphia Convention. And we are not sure that this is not the real truth in regard to the last named Arkansas delegates.

COGHLAN.—The Alta California is giving the Congressman from this district particular fits on account of his record since he has been in Congress, and admits that he was elected by fraud. That is pretty good for the Alta, but how much better it would have been to have made this admission at the time—for the facts were just as well known then as now—than to wait until he had done something to displease her reverence, and then come out and denounce him.

NO. II.

Dividing Lines.

MR. EDITOR:—In the year 1773, the thirteen colonies were, as political communities, as separate and distinct from each other as any thirteen separate governments in the old world.

In the year 1774 it became, in the estimation of the people, necessary to organize a National Government, in order the more effectually to resist the aggressive measures of Great Britain. As a consequence, delegates from all the colonies, except Georgia, assembled in Philadelphia, as a continental congress, on the 4th day of September, 1774, chose officers, "and adopted certain fundamental proceedings."

Among other things, Judge Story, in his "Commentaries on the Constitution of the United States," thus sets forth a portion of their labors:

"Thus was organized under the auspices, and with the consent of the people, acting directly in their primary sovereign capacity, and without the intervention of the functionaries, to whom the ordinary powers of government were delegated in the colonies, the first general or national government, which has very aptly been called the revolutionary government, since in its origin and progress it was wholly conducted upon revolutionary principles. The Congress, thus assembled, exercised de facto and de jure a sovereign authority, not as the delegated agents de facto of the colonies, but in virtue of original powers derived from the people. The revolutionary government, thus formed, terminated only when it was regularly superseded by the confederated government under the articles finally ratified, as we shall hereafter see, in 1781."

The object first had in view by the revolutionary government was a redress of grievances. Such continued to be the object, till the colonies concluded to strike for independence.

Is it asked "With what powers was that government invested?" The answer is "With those delegated to it by the people." It will not be argued by anybody that the newly set up government was one of unlimited powers. If not, then, it is easy to lay down the principle by which the limits were to be circumscribed. It could exercise all the powers delegated to it by the people. It could exercise no power not delegated to it by the people. In every conceivable state of facts, the question, "Has a given power been invested in the government?" was equivalent to the question, "Has such power been delegated by the people?"

The people of the colonies were to be slaves or freemen. National independence was to be won or lost. The issues before the public were of great magnitude. A great and glorious object was to be accomplished. In the reason and fitness of things, therefore, it was proper that the grant of power to "the revolutionary government" should be commensurate with the public exigencies.

From the fourth day of September, 1774, to the first day of March, 1781, we had a revolutionary national government. During that time we had also thirteen separate and distinct State governments. Between the authority of that national government on the one hand, and of the thirteen State governments on the other, there was a dividing line.

The national government was one of delegated powers. The thirteen State governments were governments of reserved powers. The authority of the former government properly extended to all national objects. The authority of the latter governments as properly extended to all merely local objects.

On the fourth day of September, 1774, commenced, in these United States, the distinctions between powers delegated and not delegated, and National and Local authority.

JAMES JOHNSON.

THE ALDINE.—this type of beauty fos June is the most American of all our magazines. It contains three full-page original Illustrations of American Forest Scenery, by Moran, Nehlig, and Hows. Moran has selected "Kwasind, The Strong Man," in the "Song of Hiawatha," and he has handled it magnificently, with all the strength and none of the extravagance of Dore. Nehlig has selected the Colonial forest, so to speak, and has given us Campbell's "Gertrude of Wyoming," the spirit of which he has realized in his figures of Gertrude and Albert, who are rambling through the woods in fanciful Indian garb. Hows has selected the forests of the Adirondacks, and has given us a glimpse of the pines of the Racquette. A nobler trio of forest pictures than these were never drawn, and they ought to make the fortune of The Aldine as an Art Journal. The rest of the illustrations are of various degrees of merit, the most noticeable being Davis's "Rainy Day," after Longfellow's poem of that name, and a characteristic design, by Stephens, for one of Æsop's fables. The present number contains an interesting paper on "Charlotte Bronte's Brothers and Father, by January Searle; "On an Island;" "An Ill Wind," a graceful sketch, by Leslie Malbone; "The Fate of the Hassans," a matter-of-fact ghost story, by Clara Guernsey; and "Fancie's Farewell," an imaginative fantasy, by Lolly Dinks' Mother. Dr. T. M. Coan gives us "A Glimpse at Ireland," W. W. Bailey contributes a pleasant paper on "Marsh and Pond Flowers," and Erastus South gossips about "An Art Muse in America." The poetry of The Aldine puts to shame the ambitious verse of the period, it is so fresh and characteristic. There are editorials on "The Noble Savage," "The Heart of Kosciusko," "Love Aloft," and "The Kingfisher." Altogether the June Aldine is the best that has yet been published. The publishers are James Sutton & Co., 23 Liberty Street, N. Y., and the price is $5.00, including oil chromo.

POSTMASTER.—It is now certain that Thos. C. Pockman has been appointed post-master for Woodland, vice Ruggles, resigned.

Republicans and the Democratic Nomination.

EDITOR DEMOCRAT:—It is amusing to contemplate with what nonchalance the republican newspapers offer their opinions to the Democracy upon the coming campaign. A disinterested party would at once decide that they had charge of the whole political machinery of this nation, and were especially interested in the success of the Democratic ticket. Grant and Congress are preparing quietly for a terrible conflict with Greeley and Brown; becoming frightened at the amnesty clause in the tablet of facts stated by the Cincinnati Convention, they think they have succeeded in cancelling that objection by passing another Amnesty Bill. It is in vain for political tricksters to attempt such a dodge—the principle is too apparent—and sensible Republicans will not support a party that is taken with such a violent conviction. Why is it that these meddlesome itemizers so much dislike the idea of a straight out-and-out Democratic ticket? Oh! they say if you dare do such a thing Greeley will throw up the sponge immediately! Men that write such balderdash know better. The Liberal Republicans have met and made their nominations in good faith; the nominees in like good faith have accepted the same, and pledged themselves to the support of the platform, without one proviso as regards Grant or the Democrats either; they propose to fight it out on that platform "if it takes all Summer." Gentlemen of the Republican press, go in, it is your funeral, and on the ninth of next July we trust the brave yeomanry of the land will assure you of the existence of the Democratic party, and prove that though truth may be crushed to earth it will not remain obscure, but surmount every obstacle. If the Liberal element carries with it but one-fourth of its party, the Democrats have the road to success open. The Republican party are only in the ascendency because of the negro vote, and the loss on the other side of the disfranchised; so if Greeley carries but a portion equal to the negro vote the Democrats are sure of success. Moreover it would be better to let the refractory elements of Republicanism cut their own throats than to side with either; it is principle, not men, for for which we are contending. It is more honorable to fall defending the right, than to succeed, when to do so we have to fetter our political conscience. If we must fall let us fall in honorable battle, waged against factions of every kind whose past record shows an abuse of political privilege for the purpose of centralization. Let us assure ourselves that our standard bearers will apply the revenue to its legitimate purposes, and accord to all the privileges of Americans or banish the disfranchised from the land, a la the Communists of France. If the South is yet to remain in the Union she deserves all the immunities that are accorded to any citizen of the North.

The Sacramento Record declares the Germans will not support Greeley because of his prohibitory views. It is evident they will not support Grant & Co., because they are stained with the sale of arms to the French to aid in subjugating "Fader Land." The German people have too devoted a love for the land of their nativity to think of aiding those who sought its ruin. Then if those two avenues are blocked there is no recourse but to adopt the principles and nominees of the Democratic Convention.

It is very true that the Democratic party has been deprived of the reins of power for several years, and may God grant that she may remain deprived forever of that magic wand until she can ride triumphantly into the haven, astride of true principles, and not on the shoulderstraps of some favorite. It is no discomfiture, however, to the party, to be deprived of the credit (?) of doing what has been done during the last eight years. This is evinced by the present burst-up in the Republican wigwam. The clear headed desire to escape the impending crash, and have already raised the cry of "wolf! wolf!"

The Liberals have made a first-rate article of Democratic platform, and with commendable foresight have placed the best Republican in their ranks upon it; but the trouble is, the two articles will mix just as conveniently as oil and water. Democrats could support Greeley because of his espoused principles, but the man himself is quite another thing. We advise the better course to be, to follow the suggestions made by a majority of our Congressmen, and declare for an independent nominee. Do so by all means, if there is a shadow of a chance for success, and that there is a fair opportunity is shown both by reason and statistics.

JUDAS.

Woodland, May 28th, 1872.

MISSOURI DEMOCRACY.—Says the Missouri Republican, "It is with no little gratification that we refer to the position of the Missouri Democracy on the presidential question; their voice is practically unanimous against a Democratic nomination at Baltimore, and in favor of a Democratic support of Greeley and Brown. Three-fourths of the Democratic journals in the State hoist the Cincinnati ticket at the head of their columns, and the others speak plainly in favor of it. There is no opposition to the ticket in this State, except that which comes from the supporters of Grant. The explanation of this remarkable unanimity of sentiment is the confident belief that the policy which overthrew Radicalism so decisively in Missouri two years ago, is the true policy to overthrow Radicalism in all the States in the approaching contest.

BORN.

In Woodland, May 27th, to the wife of Henry Ricker, a Son.

In Woodland, May 27th, to the wife of Dr. Prather, a Son.

MARRIED.

In Woodland, May 30th, by the Rev. Father Spelman, A. St. Louis to Mary E. O'Brien.

The compliments of the occasion were extended to us, and we trust the parties to these nuptials will enjoy a full measure of the sunshine of life with nothing to mar their happiness or break the chain of their now pleasant anticipations.

New Advertisements.

We have the pleasure to announce that we take possession of the store where the Arcade Restaurant used to be, opposite the College, on the 1st of June. As we intend to move in a very heavy stock of goods, it will take about eight or ten days until we are ready to wait on the public.

We shall keep the best assortment that ever was in this market, and also at the most reasonable rates, to wit: Staple and Fancy Dry Goods, Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods, Boots, Shoes, etc. Our full advertisement will appear in the next issue.

Justice's Summons.

IN THE JUSTICE'S COURT OF GRAFTON Township, in the County of Yolo, State of California. THOMAS LAUGENOUR, plaintiff, against WM. McGRIFF, defendant.

The People of the State of California send greeting to Wm. McGriff, defendant. You are hereby required to appear before me at my office in Grafton Township, in the County of Yolo, in an action brought against you by the above named plaintiff, and answer the complaint in said action, on file in my office, within ten days, (exclusive of the day of service) after the service on you of this summons.

The said action is brought to recover the sum of One Hundred and Two dollars, ($102) principal upon a certain Promissory Note, dated March 25th, 1863, and interest thereon from July 20th, 1864, until paid, at the rate of two per cent. per month. And you are hereby notified that if you fail to appear and answer said Complaint, as above required, said plaintiff will take judgment against you for the said amount of $102 and interest, together with costs and damages.

To the Sheriff or any Constable of said county, greeting: Make legal service and due return hereof.

Given under my hand this 20th day of February, A.D. 1869.

H. M. HOYT,
Justice of the Peace of said Township.

Democratic Primaries and County Convention.

At a meeting of the Democratic Central Committee, held in Woodland, May 28th, 1872, it was ordered that Primary Elections be held at the usual places of voting in the several precincts of the county, on SATURDAY, June 8th, 1872, at 1 o'clock P.M., to elect Delegates to the County Convention, to be held in the Court House in the town of Woodland, on SATURDAY, June 15th, 1872, to appoint Delegates to the Democratic State and Congressional Conventions; and to transact such further business as may properly come before the Convention.

It is ordered that at all Primary Elections, voters who are in favor of abiding by the decision of the Democratic National Convention be entitled to vote.

Each precinct will be entitled to the following number of delegates:

	Delegates.		Delegates.
North Putah	6	Fairview	1
South Putah	3	Buckeye	5
Woodland	13	Fremont	1
Cacheville	3	East Cottonwood	4
East Grafton	6	West Cottonwood	3
West Grafton	3	Washington	5
North Grafton	3	Merritt	1

H. GWINN, Chairman.

J. A. DOUGLASS, Secretary.

FOURTH OF JULY.—A meeting of our citizens will be held at the Court House this evening to make arrangements to celebrate the coming national anniversary. It is quite late enough, and prompt action should be taken in order to make the celebration a success. Of course we all desire to celebrate in some manner worthy so great an event. This is the place for a general county celebration; indeed there is no other so fit in every respect, as Woodland is centrally located, and very many from all parts of the county would like to and will come here on that day. We trust there will be a large meeting of our prominent citizens this evening, and that the arrangements for celebrating will be on a scale commensurate with the importance of the occasion. We learn with pleasure that the Knight's of Yolo have already made arrangements for a grand Tournament at Woodland on the Fourth.

SAD ACCIDENT.—Wm. Buob, residing two miles west of Cacheville, on Monday last met with a very serious accident while running a mowing machine in his father's field. One of the mules was lazy and Buob jumped off in front of the mower to make him come to time, when the mule jumped and the cutting knives caught one of Buobs legs just above the foot, nearly severing the foot from the leg. Dr. Parramore was sent for as fast as horseflesh could carry the messenger, and made all haste to aid the unfortunate man. The bones were found to be entirely severed, the foot hanging by the flesh in front. The patient was made as comfortable as possible, but, of course, suffered great pain. It is feared amputation will have to be resorted to, but the friends requested that it should at any rate be deferred as long as prudent, and possibly he may recover without amputation.

COUNTY CONVENTION AND PRIMARIES.—Calls will be noticed at the head of our columns by the State Central Committee for a State Convention at San Francisco, June 19th; by the County Central Committee for a County Convention on Saturday, June 15th, and for Primaries, on Saturday next, June 8th, to select delegates to the County Convention. The apportionment of delegates will be seen in the call. The test for voting at the primaries is that recommended by the State Committee, namely, that they are favor of abiding by the decision of the National Democratic Convention.

SUPERVISORS.—A special meeting of the Board was held this week to receive and act upon a petition of the Trustees of Reclamation District No. 108, the result of which was an order by the Board that a meeting of land owners in said district be called to meet at the Supervisors' office in Woodland on the 25th day of June, at 11 o'clock, and notice of which will be found in the proper place in our columns. The monthly meeting of the Board will occur again on Monday next.

SMALLPOX.—The Vallejo Chronicle says: This terrible scourge is now prevalent at Batavia, and unless the proper precautionary steps are taken, its rapid spread may be expected to other portions of the county, if not, indeed, of the whole State. It is also reported to have got a footing at Dixon. We would advise vaccination as the best safeguard against the disease, and it should be resorted to at once.

SOMETHING NICE.—Upon special invitation the other day we had occasion to try the superior quality of the ice cream made and sold by S. Kaufman. His rooms are so nicely fitted up, too, that the article is all the more enjoyed. This is just the place to step into of a warm afternoon or evening and enjoy the seasonable delicacies Mr. Kaufman knows so well how to prepare and serve.

FAMILY RUPTURE.—The voluntary resignation of A. E. Wagstaff from the Secretaryship of the Board of Swamp Land Commissioners has resulted in a strong personal attack upon Mr. Reed, President of the Board, in the last issue of the Yolo Mail, of which the said Wagstaff is editor. Some anxiety has been expressed by timid parties, who fear this wordy attack may provoke a rejoinder of a different character. We hope no bad blood will be spilled, however. We do not wish to interfere in family disturbances, but lest we should be charged with misrepresentation, we give below just what the Mail did say, as both parties are residents of this county, and most of our readers are, therefore, interested. After giving the item we published last week, stating that Wagstaff had resigned, and giving due credit, it goes on to say:

Thank you, neighbor; rumor has not told a lie. Our friend (?) Charley, had forgotten a year ago when he came to our sanctum and begged us for God's sake to support him in his desires to secure the nomination for Congress. We told him the opposition he had at home, frankly; but he begged the more. In face of warnings from a host of opposition, we gave him our support; he secured the delegation and was thus brought before the Congressional Convention. The best Republicans in Yolo county were opposed to the movement.

We were told then he would sell his best friend to attain an object, and we have tested the truth of it to our entire satisfaction. He could not defeat us in an election, but by a species of cunning and craft, he exhibited such a venom in his opposition that we could not peaceably have associated with him, he being President of the Board. We did not desire to associate with such a man after what had transpired, so we resigned the position. He had another man to whom he was pledged, and who suited his purposes better. What these purposes are the future may possibly develop. They never would have been developed had we submitted with success to the test or ordeal which he ingeniously demanded as he said, to compass our final defeat.

THE TENT MEETINGS.—Crowds of listeners have nightly attended the lectures of Elders Loughborough and Cornell during the past week, and a great deal of interest has been manifested. The lecturers are men of over twenty years' experience as lecturers and preachers, are close students of the Bible, which is emphatically stated to be the foundation of all their arguments, and their ideas are presented in a manner new and acceptable to the mass of their hearers. On Sunday evening, it is estimated about eight hundred persons were present, and the tent has been quite or nearly full each evening since. Some of the points advanced have been objected to, but the speakers invite questions and investigation. We shall not be surprised if replies are elicited from some of the local clergy. The meetings are to be continued on Sunday, and during the coming week, after which further announcement will be made.

DISTRICT COURT. — The case of Tiery Wright vs. Levi Carpenter et al., has occupied the Court during the week, almost exclusively, and up to yesterday afternoon no decision had been arrived at. The jury at that time were on a tour of examination as to the character of the land in dispute, in charge of the Sheriff. The case of the People vs. Hagar, for delinquent taxes in Reclamation District No. 108, was by consent of parties continued to latter part of July, testimony to be taken in Sacramento.

LECTURING.—Elders Kellogg and Ferguson, Second Adventists, have been lecturing to large audiences in Fairview and Haight schoolhouses in the west part of the county during the past three weeks, and we learn feel well satisfied with the results of their labors. Elder Kellogg will commence a course of lectures at the Methodist church, Cacheville, on Wednesday evening next, which will probably continue two weeks—Sunday mornings and every evening.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE CONVENTION.—The Pacific Slope Woman Suffrage Convention will be held in Mercantile Library Hall, in San Francisco, commencing on the 18th of June, and continuing three days, or longer if necessary. Being for the whole Coast, this will, no doubt, be a very large gathering of feminines. We notice by the published call that Mrs. C. P. Sprague, of this place, is one of the Vice Presidents of the California Woman Suffrage Association

BEHIND THE TIMES.—Speaking of the new schoolhouse, the Mail says: "They do not propose to tear any of it down." Over a month ago, more than half of the South wall of the west wing of the said building was "torn down," from foundation to roof, the foundation widened considerably and the wall rebuilt, so that the building is probably better than before. True, Mr. Mail, "they do not" now "propose to tear any of it down."

NEW MUSIC.—From the leading music house of M. Gray, San Francisco, we have received the following pieces of choice new music: "Tom Bowling"—song; "Prima Donna of a Night"—lancers; "Mandolinata"—serenade; "Trios"—for female voices; Sleep in Peace"—serenade quartette. These or any other kind of music or musical instruments can be obtained at the lowest prices by addressing Mr. Gray, as above.

SEASONABLE LUXURIES.—S. Kaufman, (opp. the College,) is ready to furnish the most delicious Ice-Cream and Soda-water, flavored to suit the most fastidious tastes. Families, parties, festivals and balls will be attended with all promptness, and the above articles furnished at a very reasonable rate, delivered wherever required.

FOR THE VERY BEST PHOTOGRAPHS, go to Bradley & Rulofson's Gallery, without stairs. ☞ Ascend in the Elevator—429 Montgomery St., San Francisco.

TEETH KICKED OUT.—John W. Martin, who attended Hesperian College the last term, was breaking a fractious colt the other day at the home farm, three miles northwest from Cacheville, when the colt suddenly wheeled and kicked him directly on the mouth, knocking in six of his front teeth—two from the lower and four from the upper jaw. Smarting under the pain, and with regret at having lost so many of his best teeth, (for he is a fine-looking young man,) Martin determined that he would prevent a repetition of that kind of performance after he should get them replaced by a dentist; and concluding that it would in the long run, be the most economical course to pursue, went to the house for his revolver and gave the unruly animal the benefit of its contents, laying him out "as cold as a wedge." Moral. When breaking fiery, untamed steeds, either keep upon their backs or at the end of a rope long enough to let you out of range of their heels.

NICKLESBURG BROS.—See the announcement of the opening of a new store by these gentlemen. They evidently mean business, and begin their advertising as though they meant to let people know just what they proposed to do. Nothing like it!

AT HIS POST.—Judge Ramage, of the Sixth District Court has sufficiently recovered from his recent illness to attend to his judicial duties, and has occupied the bench in this place during the week.

NEW MAIL ROUTE.—Among the post roads established by law is one from Woodland, via Cacheville, to the head of Capay Valley.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

CONTINUAL dropping out of the hair, with a disagreeable itching of the scalp, prevented, and the scalp made cool and healthy by the use of Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—The best and most efficient cure known for Dyspepsia and Indigestion is Dr. Henley's Celebrated I X L Bitters. Try it. Read advertisement in another column. my25-3m

BRONCHITIS.—This is an irritation or inflammation of the bronchial tubes, which carry the air we breathe into the lungs. It arises from a cold settled in the throat, from Catarrh extending to these parts, from scrofulous affections, and from severe use of the voice. The irritation from this latter cause commences in the larynx and glottis, which are the organs of the voice, and extending downward, produces hoarseness, coughing and spitting mucous matter, sometimes mixed with blood. It is chiefly dangerous from its tendency to spread into the lungs, and terminate in consumption. It is in the cure of severe and obstinate cases of this disease that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has achieved unparalleled success, and won the loudest praise from all who have used it. It is sold by all repectable druggists.

The Yolo Democrat.

Saturday, June 1st, 1872.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

It is reported that the New York World, a leding Democratic journal, has been sold to the Republicans.

THE new water pipes in Sacramento were tested on Sunday. They stood a pressure of 130 pounds.

THE Wisconsin Germans denounce Senator Carpenter for his attack upon Carl Schurz. Carpenter tries to explain, but the Germans will have nothing to do with his explanation.

PROBABLY the longest bridge in the world is on the Mobile and Montgomery Railroad, between Tensas Station and Mobile. It rests on iron cylinders, has ten draws, and is fifteen miles in length.

THE blossom cannot tell what becomes of its odor, and no man can tell what becomes of his influence and example, that roll away from him, and go beyond his ken on their perilous mission.

A GRANDSON of Daniel Webster named Appleton got "tight," was put into a lockup at a Massachusetts railroad station, lighted a pipe, dropped a match, set himself on fire, and burned almost to a cinder. Unlike his renowned ancestor "he still lives."

THE Santa Cruz Sentinel, the paper that first nominated Booth for Governor, comes out strongly in favor of Greeley and Brown. Kooser, its editor, is an old California, having arrived in California in 1847. He has long been a journalist, and is disgusted with Radical misrule.

THE savings banks of the United States contain deposits of 1,000,000,000, mainly the surplus earnings of mechanics and laboring men. Of this amount, over $163,000,000 are deposited in the savings banks of Massachusetts, $100,000,000 in the rest of New England, and nearly $300,000,000 in New York.

IT now turns out that the Federal Government cleared about eight millions of dollars in the illegal sale of arms to the French Republic. This modest little sum, it appears, did not get exactly into the Treasury, but was used, it is alleged, for current expenses of the War Department. Mr. Secretary Belknap will now have a chance to let the country know how the money was expended, who got it, and by what authority it was disbursed. Let us have light.

MR. HENDRICKS, of Indiana, says: "As far as I am concerned, I feel in duty bound to sustain the action of the National Convention. If it nominates a straight Democratic ticket, I will support it with all the zeal, influence and ability I possess. If it indorses the nomination of Greeley and Brown, I shall certainly support that ticket with equal zeal and energy. Any other statement of my position in regard to this matter has been made without authority."

THE building which is to contain the world's exhibition in Vienna in 1873 is to consist of one long gallery eighty feet in width by about two thousand nine hundred and twenty-five in length, with twenty cross galleries, each fifty-two feet wide and six hundred and fifty feet long. This peculiar structure is to be surmounted by an iron dome having a span of three hundred and thirty feet, or double that of St. Peter's at Rome. Five times an much space will be available as in the building at Paris.

BEFORE the close of the war says the Sacramento Union the gross debt of the ten Southern States was $76,415,890. Now, after seven years of alliance between carpet-sack political knaves and plundering railroad scoundrels, it is $291,626,015—an increase of $215,210,125! Louisana has been mulcted for $29,000,000, Georgia for nearly $40,000,000, Alabama for $45,000,000, and the Carolinas for $40,000,000. The corporations and the political thieves who served them in the State Legislatures have produced nine-tenths of this enormous increase of debt.

THE Amnesty bill, which has just become a law, removes the political disabilities of 150,000 persons, among whom are Alexander H. Stephens, ex-Governors Letcher and Wise, Generals Forest, Hill, Wade Hampton, Johnston, Bragg, Cooper, Hardee and Beauregard, Barnwell Rhett, James A. Seddon, A. R. Wright, John C. Breckinridge, and many other political and military leaders. Those still under the ban number several hundred, among whom are Jefferson Davis, Yulee, Mallory, Toombs, Wigfall, Lamar and Crawford.

BOUNTIES.—Soldiers who enlisted in the service of the United States prior to July 22d, 1861, are interested in the following:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That every volunteer, non-commissioned officer, private, musician, and artificer who enlisted into the military service of the United States prior to July twenty-second, eighteen hundred and sixty-one, under the proclamation of the President, of the United States of May third, eighteen hundred and sixty-one, and the orders of the War Department issued in pursuance thereof, and was actually mustered before August sixth, eighteen hundred and sixty-one into any regiment, company or battery, which was accepted by the War Department under such proclamation and orders, shall be paid the full bounty of one hundred dollars, under and by virtue of the said proclamation and orders of the War Department, in force at the time of such enlistment and prior to July twenty-second, eighteen hundred and sixty-one; Provided, That the same has not already been paid.

Approved, April 22, 1872.

LIFE AMONG THE PATAGONIANS.—Mr. Musters writes of the Patagonians: "They have few traditions, and their songs are merely melodious sounds, without meaning. Horse racing and gambling are their favorite pursuits, and they have many games of manual dexterity. Marriages are always of inclination, and the only ceremony is exchange of gifts and great slaughter of mares. On the death of a Tehuelche, all his horses, dogs and other animals are killed; his ponchos, ornaments, bolas and other personal belongings are placed in a heap and burned, the widow and other womankind keeping up a dismal wailing. The meat of the horses is distributed among the relatives on both sides; and the widow, who cuts her hair short and assumes black paint, repairs to the toldo of her relatives, or if she has none in the party, to the toldo of the chief. Their religion is very vague; they believe in a Great Spirit, but have no idols or subjects of worship, nor is there any trace among them of adoration of the sun."

HAVING REMOVED

From the old store into our New and spacious brick block, we are now better than ever prepared to supply families and the public with everything in the way of provisions. We have a large and carefully selected stock of

GROCERIES,

To which we ask the attention of this community, believing that it cannot be surpassed in Yolo county. A full assortment of

VEGETABLES

Will be found with us at all times, and we shall keep fully up to the market in this department of our trade.

FRUITS

Will receive special attention and the choicest qualities be kept on hand, fresh, throughout the season of each variety.

Poultry and Eggs

Will be a leading feature of our establishment, and customers will be supplied with any number or quantity they may desire.

BUTTER AND CHEESE

Are particularly in our line, and purchasers can rely upon getting the best the market affords. But we cannot enumerate all our different kinds of goods in an advertisement.

We shall keep a complete stock of goods on hand and sell at fair prices; therefore we ask a share of patronage from the people of Woodland and vicinity, guaranteeing entire satisfaction to all who favor us with their trade.

Plantation Bitters

S. T.---1860---X.

This wonderful Vegetable Restorative is the sheet anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid, it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates, tropical, temperate or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits.

Lyon's Kathairon, For Preserving and Beautifying the Human Hair, to Prevent its Falling Out and Turning Gray.

A well-preserved Head of Hair, in a person of middle age, at once bespeaks refinement, elegance, health and beauty. It may truly be called Woman's Crowning glory, while men are not insensible to its advantages and charms. Few things are more disgusting than thin, frizzly, harsh, untamed Hair, with head and coat covered with Dandruff. Visit a Barber and you feel and look like a new man. This is what LYON'S KATHAIRON will do all the time. The charm which lies in well placed Hair, Glossy Curls, Luxuriant Tresses and a Clean Head, is noticeable and irresistible. CARRIAGE AND WAGON MANUFACTORY!

Elliott Brothers, Prop'rs,

CORNER MAIN AND FOURTH STREETS.,

Opposite Gas and Water Works,

WOODLAND, CAL.

LIVERYMEN, FARMERS

AND TEAMSTERS

Will find my make of BUGGIES, SPRING and LUMBER WAGONS, the best in any market for their use.

REASONS WHY:

BECAUSE they have as good if not the best reputation at home. Each Wagon is perfect in all its parts.

BECAUSE my prices are as low as the lowest for first-class work.

BECAUSE I can furnish the highest home testimonials as to their durability and lightness of draft.

BECAUSE none but the best and most experienced mechanics are employed in their construction.

BECAUSE they are built upon scientific principles, combining the greatest strength with lightness of draft.

BECAUSE wherever introduced they are generally preferred by Liverymen, Farmers and Freighters.

BECAUSE they are made in a very DRY CLIMATE, and from that fact are far superior for service to those built in more moist or damp parts of the country.

BECAUSE I give rules for taking care of carriages.

First—The carriage-house should be apart from the stable, as the ammonia arising from horse manure will in a very short time destroy the varnish on a carriage, and then the owner ignorantly charges the carriage maker with using inferior varnish.

Second—In washing a buggy cold water should be used freely, so as to remove the dust and mud before using the sponge and chamois skin.

Third—Never turn the hose under or on the seat, for the water will loosen the canvass and glue, and cause the corners to give way and the body to go to pieces.

Fourth—To preserve the wood and save expense, the carriage should be kept thoroughly painted and varnished.

Fifth—I am better prepared than ever, to Paint, Ornament and Varnish Carriages, Wagons, etc. I have in my employ the best of buggy painters, and use none but the best articles of paints, oils and varnishes; the above in connection with my Paint Shop and Varnish Rooms, which are as good if not the best on this Coast, being hard finished and free from dust. I can, and have turned out as smooth, clean and nice finished jobs as can be done in the State.

Sixth—Those wishing to get their buggies, carriages, etc., repaired and painted, will do well to call at my shop and examine my superior advantages over other shops. I am willing to abide by the injunction, "by their works ye shall know them." I am willing that my work shall praise me; I ask no other endorsement. This endorsement I have had in past years; this I expect to merit and maintain in the future.

BAPTISED IN FIRE.

THE CHICAGO PHENIX!

A Universal Newspaper.

READ THE FOLLOWING!

A popular weekly paper for the times, embracing the leading features of those journals destroyed by the terrible conflagration, and combining just such a corps of writers as will give the public all the news of the week, in a condensed compilation of the leading journals of the nation and the world.

A Truthful Record.

The PHENIX will be the most truthful and reliable recorder of incidents and facts concerning the great fire, ever published.

Accounts of the Fire.

It will contain only such accounts as are vouched for by reliable witnesses, and will correct the erroneous and fabricated statements of sensational writers.

Chicago and the News.

It will, for a time be devoted especially to the past, present and future of Chicago, besides being the most complete weekly newspaper in the world.

Fireside Companion and Newspaper.

Its columns are devoted to News, Commerce, Science, Literature Art, Drama, Music, Humor, Pastime, Poetry, Fashion, Society news, and enough of Romance to make it a most desirable fireside companion, as well as the most reliable and complete newspaper for the business man in the counting-room.

Beautiful Illustrations.

It will be illustrated with engravings taken from Photographs of the Chicago Ruins, instead of sketches, "By Our Special Artist" who was not "on the spot;" and thus give a series of PERFECT VIEWS, not obtainable elsewhere, and the first number will contain the only correct map of the burned city.

Happy Hours.

That beautiful literary journal, "HAPPY HOURS," whose publisher was the first to issue a paper to meet the public demand, after the awful fire, has been merged into the literary department of the PHENIX, which will embrace the contributions of more than sixty of the most popular writers of the day.

A Special Feature.

The PHENIX will contain, as an especial feature a more complete record of incidents and results of the late terrible fire, than can be found in any book, paper or other publication in the country. So numerous and inaccurate have been the accounts sent forth, that something reliable and readable is eagerly sought at this time, and the PHENIX will fill the bill.

A Paper for the People.

The PHENIX is the cheapest paper in America, being an eight-page, forty-column weekly, at only two dollars a year; in fact in shall be the paper for the people and the times.

The First Number.

The first number will be issued on Saturday, November 11th, and will be the paper wanted by everybody, as a record worth preserving or sending away, and for its accurate illustrations.

Its Basis.

It is a consolidation of other journals, and therefore on a solid foundation, continuing their former circulation.

New Subscribers.

To any person who gets us three new subscribers, we will send the PHENIX for one year free, or one of our beautiful prize, steel plate engravings worth $2,50.

Premiums.

For the purpose of rapidly increasing our subscription list before the close of the present year, we will give to every person who subscribes for the PHENIX during the month of November, a beautiful steel plate engraving, worth $2 50, half a dollar more than the price of subscription. No such opportunity was ever before given, and probably never will be again. Avail yourself of it. Engravings will be promptly and safely sent by mail or delivered at this office, as subscribers may wish.

Subscribe Now.

Send in your names and subscriptions at once, and sustain this great newspaper enterprise. Price of subscription only $2 00 per year. Single copies 5 cents. Agents wanted everywhere

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Among the great discoveries of modern science, few are of more real value to mankind than this effectual remedy for all diseases of the Throat and Lungs. A vast trial of its virtues, throughout this and other countries, has shown that it does surely and effectually control them. The testimony of our best citizens, of all classes, establishes the fact, that CHERRY PECTORAL will and does relieve and cure the afflicting disorders of the Throat and Lungs beyond any other medicine. The most dangerous affections of the Pulmonary Organs yield to its power; and cases of Consumption, cured by this preparation, are publicly known, so remarkable as hardly to be believed, were they not proven beyond dispute. As a remedy it is adequate, on which the public may rely for full protection. By curing Coughs, the forerunners of more serious disease, it saves unnumbered lives, and an amount of suffering not to be computed. It challenges trial, and convinces the most sceptical. Every family should keep it on hand as a protection against the early and unperceived attack of Pulmonary Affections, which are easily met at first, but which become incurable, and too often fatal, if neglected. Tender lungs need this defence; and it is unwise to be without it. As a safeguard to children, amid the distressing diseases which beset the Throat and Chest of childhood, CHERRY PECTORAL is invaluable; for, by its timely use, multitudes are rescued from premature graves, and saved to the love and affection centred on them. It acts speedily and surely against ordinary colds, securing sound and health-restoring sleep. No one will suffer troublesome Influenza and painful Bronchitis, when they know how easily they can be cured.

Originally the product of long, laborious, and successful chemical investigation, no cost or toil is spared in making every bottle in the utmost possible perfection. It may be confidently relied upon as possessing all the virtues it has ever exhibited, and capable of producing cures as memorable as the greatest it has ever effected.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

Every year increases the popularity of this valuable Hair Preparation; which is due to merit alone. We can assure our old patrons that it is kept fully up to its high standard; and it is the only reliable and perfected preparation for restoring GRAY OR FADED HAIR to its youthful color, making it soft, lustrous, and silken. The scalp, by its use, becomes white and clean. It removes all eruptions and dandruff, and, by its tonic properties, prevents the hair from falling out, as it stimulates and nourishes the hair-glands. By its use, the hair grows thicker and stronger. In baldness, it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, and will create a new growth, except in extreme old age. It is the most economical HAIR DRESSING ever used, as it requires fewer applications, and gives the hair a splendid, glossy appearance. A. A. Hayes, M.D., State Assayer of Massachusetts, says, "The constituents are pure, and carefully selected for excellent quality; and I consider it the BEST PREPARATION for its intended purposes."

Buckingham's Dye.

FOR THE WHISKERS.

As our Renewer in many cases requires too long a time, and too much care, to restore gray or faded Whiskers, we have prepared this dye, in one preparation; which will quickly and effectually accomplish this result. It is easily applied, and produces a color which will neither rub nor wash off. Sold by all Druggists. Price Fifty Cents.

WANTED, AGENTS!

$100 to $250 per month—everywhere, Male and Female, to introduce the genuine improved MARSHALL SEWING MACHINE. This machine will stitch, hem, fell, tuck, braid, cord, quilt, and embroider in a most superior manner. Price only $15, fully licensed and warranted for five years. We will pay $1,000 for any machine, high priced or low, that will sew a stronger, more beautiful or more elastic seam than ours. It makes the Elastic Lock-Stitch. Every second stitch can be cut, and still the cloth can not be pulled apart without tearing it. We pay agents $100 to $250 per month and expenses, or a commission from which twice the amount can be made. For circulars and terms, apply to or address.

S. MARSHALL & CO.,
No. 102 Nassau Street, New York.

CAUTION.—Do not be imposed upon by other parties traveling through the country palming off worthless cast-iron machines under the same name or otherwise. Ours is the only genuine machine manufactured.

THE GREAT

Eradicator of Special complaints

—FORMERLY OF—

Lock Hospital, London,

Nine years in Sacramento, and the last ten years in San Francisco, has Returned to Practice.

After devoting to the practice of his profession and the successful treatment of CHRONIC DISEASES

Forty Years of his Life,

He determined to retire from his profession and devote the remainder of his days to the quiet enjoyment of private life; but the constant applications from the suffering everywhere, calling him to their relief, finally determined him to visit once more the scene of his early triumphs, LOCK HOSPITAL, and to spend a year within its wards in familiarizing himself with all the

New Methods

Of treatment in that celebrated institution and then devote a few more years of his life to the alleviation of suffering humanity. He is again located at his old office, corner of Jackson and Kearny streets, San Francisco, where for ten years previous, his practice as a SPECIALIST resulted in the cure of all cases brought under his care. The Doctor's motto is: "Honorable and successful treatment and moderate charges to all."

My Plan is Purely Vegetable,

Destroying the disease and purifying the blood, so that there is no danger of secondary symptoms.

Rheumatism, Neuralgia,

And diseases arising from the use of Mercury, such as pains in the shin-bones, swellings of the different joints of the body, running sores, etc., and impurities of the blood, cured in a short time by the use of my VEGETABLE MIXTURES, known only to myself.

Seminal Weakness.

Should you be afflicted with any of the following symptoms, such as Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Vision, Nervousness and General Debility, Loss of Memory, Confusion of Ideas and Depression of Spirits, Evil Foreboding, Self-distrust, and aversion to society, consult Dr. Tozer at once, and he will restore you to perfect health.

NEW REMEDIES! NEW REMEDIES!

DR. GIBBON'S DISPENSARY.

No. 632 Kearney Street, corner Commercial, San Francisco, established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, Weakness, Impotency, etc., etc. Skin diseases of years standing, and Ulcered Legs, etc., successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON

Has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearney street, corner of Commercial, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Produces with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves or rattling chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, pimples and various eruptions about the face, hectic flushes, furred tongue, fœted breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequently insanity. If relief be not obtained, you should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure.

Persons at a distance may be cured at home, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, lenth of time the disease has continued, and have medicine promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use. By inclosing $10 in coin, in a registered letter, through the Post Office or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

A package of medicine will be forwarded express to any part of the Union.

Persons writing to the Doctor will please state the name of the paper they see this advertisement in.

Private entrance on Commercial street.
